

PARIS AÉROPORT

RATP

ARRIVING TO PARIS

CHARLES DE GAULLE AIRPORT TO PARIS

A RER (regional trains) ticket from Charles de Gaulle costs 10€. The trip from the airport takes between 20-40 minutes from central Paris (depending on whether you get the fast or slow train.) This is what the platforms look like:

ARRIVING TO PARIS

CHARLES DE GAULLE AIRPORT TO PARIS

RER B stations are located in Terminals 2 and 3, and a shuttle train (CDGVAL) can bring you from Terminal 1 to Terminal 2 or 3.

If you can't find the platform, look for these signs:

Platforms 11 and 12 are the ones that go to Paris. Once there, look for RER B direction ROBINSON or SAINT REMY-LES-CHEVREUSES. Choose either as they both go to Zone 1 (Paris is Zone 1).

ORLY AIRPORT TO PARIS

Take the OrlyVal: a tram that goes from the airport to the nearest train station (Antony) where you can catch the RER. You can purchase the ticket (12€50) that works on both OrlyVal and RER B at the entrance to the OrlyVal.

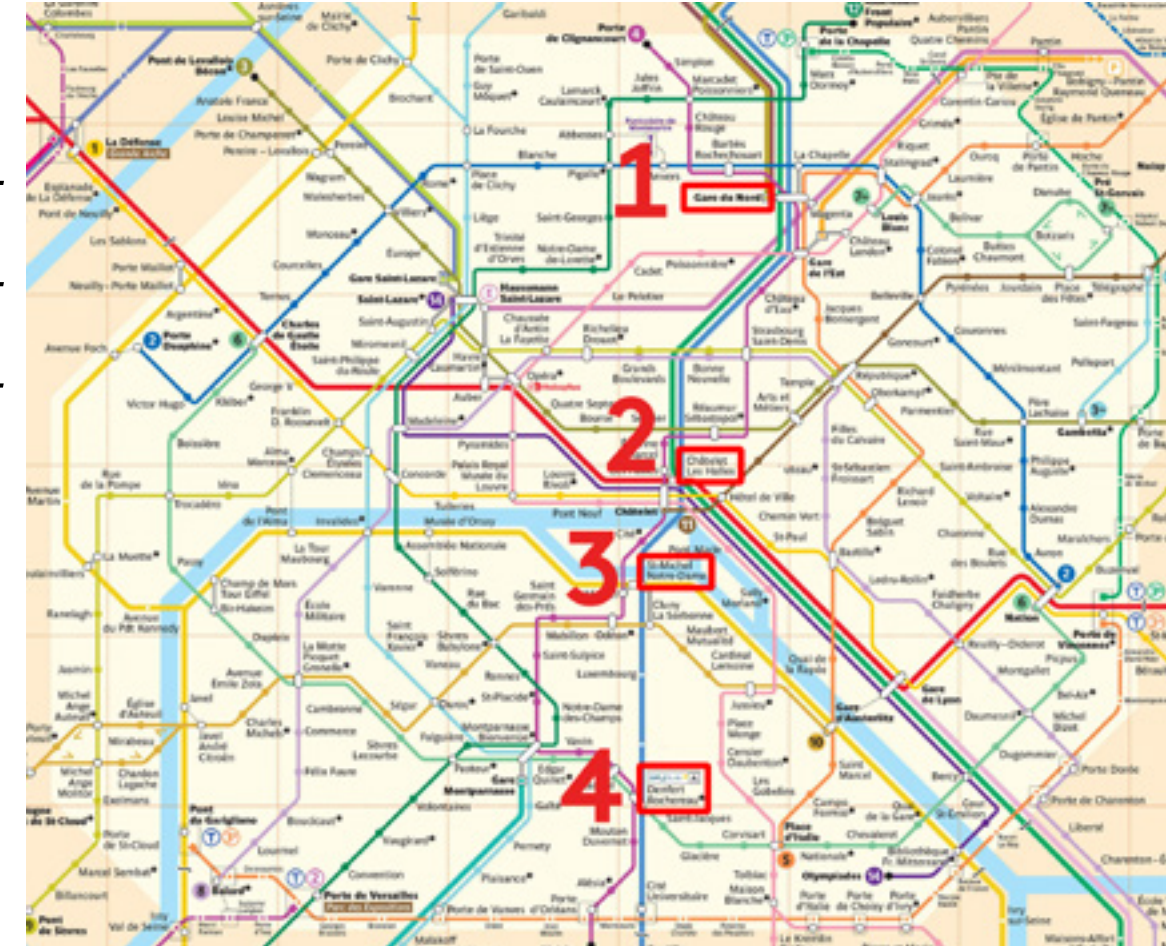

It should take less than 10 minutes to get to Antony. Once you're there, get off the OrlyVal and you should be on the RER B platform that goes to Paris. Look for trains in the direction of MITRY-CLAYE and AEROPORT CHARLES DE GAULLE.

ON THE RER AND METRO

The RER B is one of the busiest lines in Paris, and more than 4 million people use it just from Charles de Gaulle every year. Do not be worried if the train stops at some point and if there's a delay, these things happen sometimes.

You can switch and use the metro at these stops:

- 1 Gare du Nord – Metro lines 2, 4, 5. Near PCA campus, it's listed as PARIS NORD on signs in the RER.
- 2 Châtelet-Les-Halles – Metro lines 1, 4, 7, 11, 14. It's the largest metro station in Europe, it can be confusing the first time.
- 3 Saint-Michel Notre Dame – Metro lines 4, 10. Right next to Notre Dame and a rather central area.
- 4 Denfert-Rochereau – Metro lines 4, 6. In the southern part of Paris.

ON THE RER AND METRO

RER tickets are good for a transfer from the RER to the local Metro and an unlimited number of transfers once you are inside the system, so long as you don't exit the station. RER B trains run to and from the airport from about 5AM to midnight. Refer to ratp.fr for more information.

This Interactive map of public transportation in central and greater Paris will also help you map out your journey and figure out the easiest way to get to your hotel/housing.

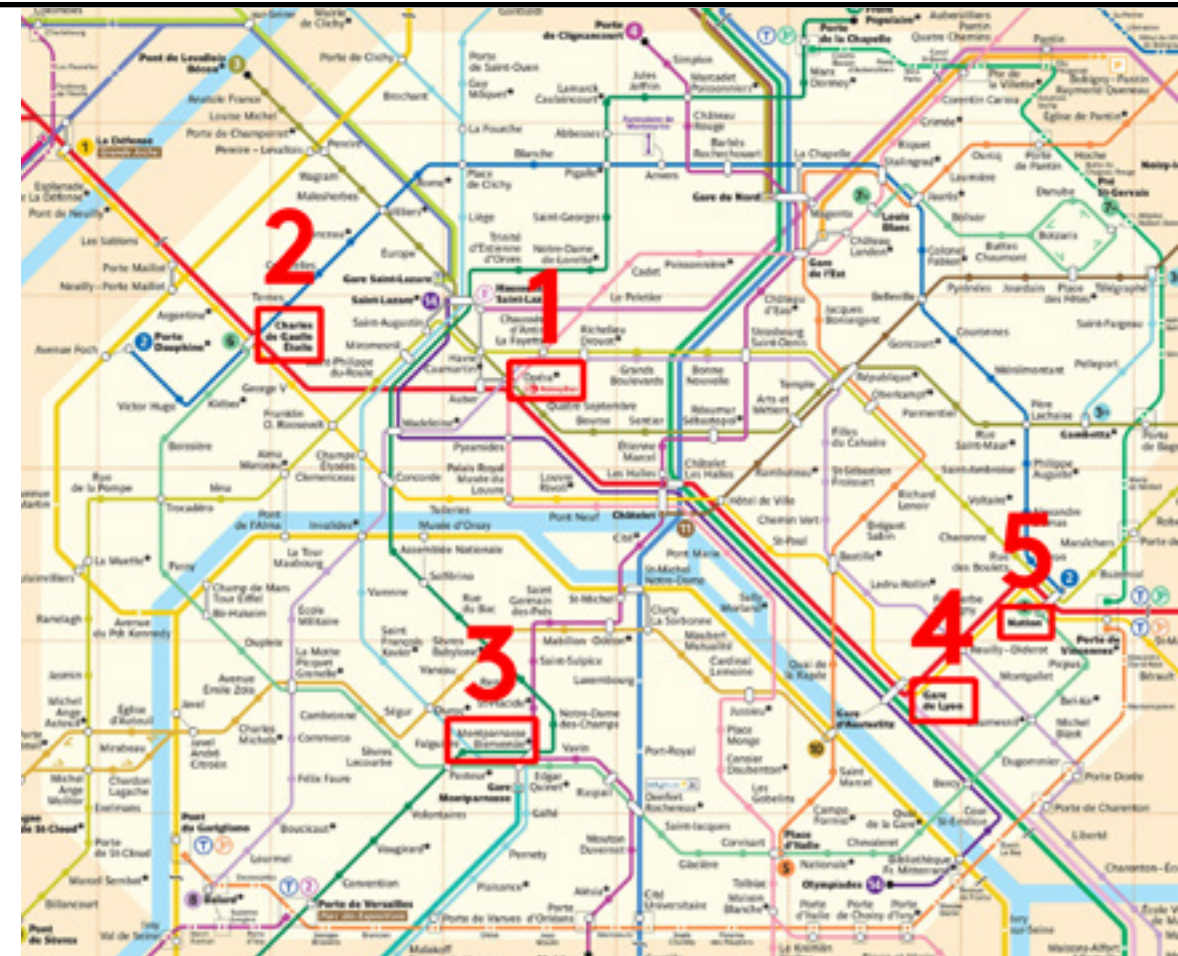

ON THE BUS

Roissybus makes trips from CDG Airport Terminals 1, 2 or 3 direct to central Paris, next to the Opéra Garnier (1). You can find lines 3, 7 and 8 as well as the RER line A at Opéra Garnier. It costs 11,50€.

Bus Direct (belongs to Air France) makes trips from CDG Airport Terminals 1, 2 or 3 to central Paris: Arc de Triomphe - Charles de Gaulle Etoile (2), Montparnasse (3) and Gare de Lyon (4), all of which have convenient metro lines. It costs between 12 and 17€ depending on destination.

Paris City Bus 351 stops at CDG Terminal 1, in between CDG Terminal 2A & Terminal 2C, in between Terminal 2B-2D, at the Terminal 2 TGV train station, and at Roissypole (RER B train station). It costs 6€ to get to Nation (5) or you can use 3 regular metro tickets.

FIXED CAB FARES

Since March 2016, there's a fixed fare on cab rides to and from the airport. Booking a cab in advance can not cost more than 7€ and cabs cannot make you pay more than these rates:

Charles de Gaulle airport to Paris Rive Droite (above the river): 50€

Charles de Gaulle airport to Paris Rive Gauche (below the river): 55€

Orly Airport to Paris Rive Droite: 35€

Orly Airport to Paris Rive Gauche: 30€

This only works for Charles de Gaulle and Orly, no other airports!

Tip: many taxi drivers don't speak English, have your destination written down. Since March 2016, there should be no added cost even if you're bringing heavy suitcases in the taxi.

ARRIVING TO PARIS

Paris
College of Art